UNDERSTANDING (and maybe even embracing) AI

SUNDAY | JANUARY 11

11:15 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.
IN ROWELL HALL

An Adult Ed discussion to prepare us for a sermon about AI in February as a part of our "Other Voices" Epiphany Series

Join Alice Locatelli as she helps us make sense of change, especially when it comes to new technology.

Alice Locatelli has spent her career translating complicated systems like AI/ChatGPT, blockchain, and crypto into something real people can actually use. She's led teams through major transformations, launched new digital products, and taught everyone from board members to book clubs how to adapt without needing a teenager to translate.

Alice holds degrees from Emory (Computer Science), Stanford (Education), and Chicago Booth (MBA). She's currently an executive at a international professional association, where she oversees technology, customer experience, and innovation. More than titles, she's known for being clear, kind, and fiercely effective.

A local mom, Alice brings a grounded, practical voice to a fast-moving world. She believes learning new tech doesn't have to be intimidating... and that everything goes better with good coffee and a few honest questions.

We are an Open and Affirming congregation.

GENEROUS. OPEN. CONNECTED.
